Baptist Meetings. Sunday was a long to be remembered day for the First Baptist church. Evangelist Thompson is doing a good work, and the results of his efforts were manifested in the addition of sixteen converts at the close of the morning service. After the right hand of fellowship had been extended to them by the paster, Rev. J. H. Davis, each member gave them a cordial welcome. Following this ceremony the Lord's Supper was administered. At the evening service the house was full to overflowing, and Mr. Thompson preached a plain, practical sermon which went to the hearts of his listeners. After the sermon six were baptized. The interest in the work is deepening so rapidly that it has been de-cided to continue the meetings every night this week. Nearly forty have already been added to the church, and still further additions are confidently looked for.

Absence of the Ward Bummer and General Apathy the Only Noticeable Features of the Day-What the Final Count Shows,

Yesterday was election day, but any one who did not know it by the newspaper anuncoments would never have dreamed that anything so serious was going on. The crowds of men about the polling places were not one-quarter as large as usual, with the possible exception of the Sixth ward, where the voting went on in a lively fashion all

The quietness of the election was due to two causes, one of which was the Australian ballot system. The wire pullers and ward bunners of twenty-five years' standing themselves more than ever of a job, and although they occasionally paid visits to the scene of war, they did not offer to take a | bargains in muslin underwear, in corset hand. The other cause was the fact that so | covers, night dresses, drawers, chemises, few candidates were to be voted for-three ward aldermen, one alderman at large and a park commissioner. Neither side did any ery extensive work, and the republicans were especially quiet. One well known re-sublican stated at 4 o'clock that if the republicans were victorious it would be in spite of them and not on account of their efforts. In the Sixth ward and the Fourth ward it was evident that the fight was a very close one, and not even the candidates claimed

Democrats Take It.

When the returns came in in the evening it became apparent little by little that if the democrats had not made a clean sweep of things, they had at leastemade a respectable beginning of it. In almost every ward they made majorities, which were in most cases so small as to be decidedly uncomfortable. In the Third ward there is a tie for first place between Gleason and Hathaway, the republican and democratic candidates for ward alderman, and this is the only ray of sunstine in the whole election, for repubsunshine in the whole election, for repub

What Evans Says It Means.

"This is not a democratic victory," said Mr. T. J. Evans, "but a victory over the motor company. The democrats were sagacious enough to see that the people were for equal justice in taxation and a 5-cent fare. and no fooling with the public funds or out-landish attorney fees, and freedom from motor dictation. The republican bosses played the role of good lord and good devil. and relied on the motor boodle to pull them through on a straddle issue. This is not republicanism, and hundreds of better re-publicans refused to allow Political Boss Arnd and his republican co-worker, John T. Stewart, to lead them to slaughter on a false issue. I am told that motor boodle swag was used freely today to corrupt voters, and, strange to state, the police looked in the other direct tion while the scheme was being worked. What good is the Australian ballot without an executive officer to see that the law is conforced? Saloons ran vide open, front doors and all during the entire day, I sur-mise, for the benefit of the motor company o maintain a 10 cent fair and repudiation of taxes from their influence. The schem worked well a year ago, but was no good to-day. The people have spoken. It shall be a 5 cent fare and full payment of taxes."

"How will the result affect your bonus tax suits now pending in court?" "I only went into the bonus tax business so as to be able to control it and dismiss the suit on the establishment of a 5 cent fare."

POSTMASTERS IN TROUBLE.

Iowa Nasbys Who Have Saved Big Bis of Buffalo Some Concern.

G. W. Watson, assistant postmaster at Payne, better known as Nebraska City Junction, Ia., was brought into the city yesterday in charge of a United States officer, to answer to the charge of embezzle ment of postal funds. He has been engaged in the business of canceling stamps for some time past, and it is claimed that the habit of working the cancellor became so fixed upon him that he was unable to stop when the supply of letters ran out, but had to go on canceling good stamps. Just how much of this kind of business he has done it is impossible to say, but he managed to run his salary up to 89 per quarter more than it would have been had he been perfectly honest, the amount of salary being regulated by the amount of business done at his office. He has been held to the federal grand jury in the sum of $1,000 bonds.

H. C. Webb, the postmaster at Bedford, is iso charged with having gone wrong to the extent of several hundred dollars. The rules of the postal department provide that rules of the postal department provide that remittances shall be made promptly to the head office, but he failed to obey instructions, often keeping the money of the government anywhere from fifteen to forty-seven days after it was due. W. G. D. Mercer, the postoffice insucctor at Des Moines, went to work on the case, and found a shortage of about $900. He at once removed Webb from office and a pressecution will undoubtedly follow a second osecution will undoubtedly follow as soon s the grand jury has a chance to pass upon the case. By hard rustling Webb managed to reduce the total shortage to $638, of $257 is in the money order fund and $381 in the postal fund. The money necessary to make up the deficiency was collected from Webb's bondsmen and turned over to the department. In speaking of the Bedford shortage yesterday Inspector Mercer said that Webb had misrepresented the facts in the case to the people and the newspapers at his home by claiming that the shortage was not due to any wrongdoing on his part but to the negli-gence of the patrons of the office in failing to pay their box rents. The shortage Mr. Mer-cer says, has no connection with the box rent fund, but was simply the result of a willful disobedience of the rules of the department on the part of Webb.

William Watson has purchased four and a half acres in the Klein tract, which he is going to improve at once by building himself a home and planting an orchard.

They plowed deep furrows in the atmosphere along Broadway frem Second street to Main, hooting and yell ing until the residents thought a cowboy theatrical troupe was giving an imitation of what may be expected on judgment day. They camped near the corner of Brondway and Main street and made all passers-by give and Main street and made all passers-by give up the sidewalk in spite of the size of their tax rolls. Officer Martin joined the party about that time and arrested both of them. They refused to be arrested and Boyington led out to Martin with a right hander. Martin threw him down, and planting his knee on Boyington's Adam's apple called on Officer Tamisea to take charge of Huff. The patrol wagon was summoned and the two men were bundled off to the city jail. Boyington with his head swelled by a contact with the side of a brick house until a No. 13 hat would hardly have been a fit.

When he arrived at the jail he renewed his warlike motions. The furniture in the little room behind the bars did not suit him, and he picked up a table and tried to make a door through the side of the building. Officer Fowler grabbed him by the neck, the air was full of a vision of flying heeis and at last he found himself in the steel cell, very much exhausted but ready for a trial this morning on the charges of drunkenness and seciety or a second contract of the steel cell. resisting an officer.

Iown's Commission to Meet in Des Moines Today.

DES MOINES, In., March 6.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-The Iowa tax commission will meet here tomorrow for the purpose of giving a hearing to all those interested in a revision of the manner of levying and colecting taxes in this state. The hearing is expected to last some time although the commission has received application from only the telephone companies and the single tax theorists. The report of the commission will be made to the general assembly which meets next winter. So far it is certain that the commission is inclined to favor the complete divorcement of county and state taxes It looks very favorably upon the Pennsyl-vania plan of collecting state taxes directly and not through counties, mostly by corpora-tion taxes and licenses. This plan will be at first opposed by the school districts which enjoy large in-comes from railway taxes, but it will tend toward bringing about the lowest valuations and do away with the strife in the counties over the valuation on which this state tax is collected. It would also stop the cry against the "extra half-mill levy," and the state would be able to raise the money it needs without so much trouble as at present. On the Other Side.

Hyatt refused to settle, and seeing trouble

The ex-hired man and a friend started after him on horse man and a friend started after him on horse-back and when they overtook him some hot words ensued. No pistols were drawn, as none of them were armed. No effort was made to lasso Hyatt. The hired man did want to pound him. Hyatt threw his pocket-book on the ground and told the men to help themselves. They declined to touch any of the money. Subsequently they were ar-rested and taken to Neligh, where they were tried and dismissed, the costs being taxed against Hyatt. EDWIN GRUBBS.

OTTUMWA, In., March A .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE |- The most hottly contested city election ever known here closed tonight. The canyass has been exceedingly sensational, the republicans unearthing many alleged schemes and statistics showing an extravagance in city and county expendiures. The republican shibboleth has been high taxes, extravagances and favoritism. and the democrats' strongest card has been the disorderly house ordinance, which is a

My heart would flutter terribly and I had sudden snothering spells when it was all I could do to get my breath. Thuse spells were a naily wo se after eating, but sometimes when my stomach was empty. I would have to lie right down when these violent attacks came on. Excitement or overwork were sure to cause them, and I need not say I was alarmed. The effect of Drs.
